Session Location

Brent does his private sessions remotely over phone or Skype. Remote sessions allow you to be relaxed in a comfortable and familiar environment, without the stress and hassle of fighting LA traffic or worrying about directions, parking, or arriving late. (Brent used to do in person sessions, but switched to phone/Skype only because he found he gets better results from remote healings.) Brent will typically call you at the appointed time.

When you book your session, you'll be provided with backup numbers to call if you don't hear from him within 5 minutes of your scheduled time. First Class sessions can be booked in-person at the Awakening Dynamics® office in West Los Angeles. The address will be provided when you book your session.

Payment Options

After you book your sessions you will be sent an email invoice that you can pay online. Several payment options are available: we can accept Visa, Mastercard, Discover, and American Express cards, or you can send a check, a money order, or PayPal.
